Egypt Breaks Ties With U.S.

Potential Subjects Of Special Session Come To Light As Opening Draws Nearer

BOISE (AP)—More potential subjects of a special session of the Idaho Legislature are coming to light as the date for the extraordinary session of the 59th Idaho Legislature draws closer.

Idaho Gov. Don W. Samuelson has called a special session for June 19—just 80 days after the record-length regular session adjourned March 31.

Heited drafting errors in a bill affecting the Idaho Department of Public Assistance program of medical aid to persons on state welfare as his immediate reason for calling the session, but alluded to "Other emergency situations facing the state."

Since the announcement, delegations have been shuttling through Samuelson's office asking that their problems be included in the governor's official call.

Samuelson maintains a "no comment" posture on what other problems will be on the agenda, but financial problems of state agencies are likely to be considered.

Latest to be disclosed is lack of funds for the State Commission on Alcoholism. The commission was created by the 58th

Legislature in 1965 and given a $25,000 appropriation. No appropriation was given the commission for the 1967-68 biennium, although it asked for $111,000.

Commissioner Bill Child of the Department of Public Assistance has said that lack of funds may prevent Idaho's participation in federal state medical assistance programs, even the legal tangle is cleared up.

He estimated about $3.5 million is needed to fully fund the program.

Other financial needs have been expressed by the Idaho Department of Highways and the State Board of Education.

Algeria And Syria Follow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Egypt broke diplomatic relations with the United States today, the State Department said.

"We have received an official message from our embassy in Cairo that the United Arab Republic is withdrawing recognition," State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey announced.

McCloskey said he had no official word on the reports that Syria or Algeria had severed relations.

States: Syria and Algeria also announced a break with the United States. Syria broke with Britain too.

Moving across Egypt's Sinai Desert on a 30-mile front along the Mediterranean coast, the Israeli forces were on the road toward them to the waterway in 1956. Egypt in closing the canal said it did so because of feared blocking of the waterway if a ship were hit by Israel's bombers.

For the first time, the Egyptian command admitted that the Israelis had invaded along the coast and blamed Israel's advance on "large-scale air intervention" by the United States and Britain. The charge was denied by both nations.

An Egyptian communique said that Syria troops in the Sinai were fighting on Egyptian territory.

At the same time, Israeli soldiers fought their way across into the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem, witnesses reported from the divided Holy City. The Israelis said they fended off the Syrian troops in the Sea of Galilee area.

Dean Rusk Accuses Cairo Of Lying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk accused Cairo today of malicious lying in its report of U.S. air activity on the Israeli side in the Middle East.

The secretary, biding off his words in a brief meeting with newsmen after a conference with President Johnson on the flaring Arab-Israeli fighting, avoided pronouncing the word "lie." But he used most of its definitions in saying the report was "invented for some purpose yet to be ascertained."

"We don't like this kind of charge," Rusk snapped.

Rusk would not go beyond speculation that the aim was propaganda and "trying to make difficulties for Americans in the Near East."

Three specific points of concern, all related to the accusation of U.S. involvement, were readily apparent.

One was the cut-off of oil shipments from Iraq and Kuwait to the West with allegations of U.S. backing for Israel as the assigned cause. There were reports the stoppage would attack.

A second point was attacks by Arab demonstrators on U.S. agencies, exemplified by mass assaults today on the American and British embassies in Beirut, Lebanon, following the Cairo assassination. More also attacked American facilities in Baghdad, Damascus and Alexandria.

A third point bore on apparent Arab efforts to involve the Soviet Union more directly in the conflict. Egypt was presenting its version of the conflict to the Kremlin today and diplomats there drew the implication efforts were being made to draw the Soviets in as at least a counterbalance to the West.

American Jets Probe Deep Into Fortified Heartland Of North Vietnam With Bombs

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP)—American jets probed deep into the fortified heartland of North Vietnam Monday, bombing rail lines into Hanoi and drawing out a swarm of Communist MIG interceptors. Three of the MIGs were reported shot down.

Although the ground fighting was reported, the airmen carried the war to the Communists with 113 strike missions over North Vietnam and five raids by giant B-52 bombers against targets in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command announced that Red ground-guns shot down a Navy Crusader jet over North Vietnam, the 672nd U.S. combat plane lost above the 17th Parallel. The plane was missing.

The Communists sent up 20 or more sweep MIGs—and MIGs in an unsuccessful attempt to disrupt the raids on the rail line leading north from Hanoi to the industrial complex of Thai Nguyen.

Within 20 minutes American Phantom fighters brought three MIGs down. A spokesman said that eight of the Red fighters were buzzing all over the sky but it was impossible to determine how many were in the air.

Dogfights have now accounted for 7 MIGs shot down. U.S. planes have been shot down.

The big B-52s, each carrying 60,000 pounds of bombs, hit the western borders of South Vietnam, along routes where the Ho Chi Minh trail disgorges infiltrators into jungle hideouts.

Two of the raids were in the northern sector, two in the central highlands and one along the Cambodian frontier west of Saigon.

In coastal Binh Dinh Province, a raging fire at an Army support airfield damaged a number of helicopters and light planes and destroyed a vast amount of stores before it was brought under control. One American serviceman was killed and two injured, and an unknown number of Vietnamese also were injured.

The fire raged for 7 1/2 hours before it was extinguished by some firefighters, engineers and infantrymen pressed into service.

Bulldozers had to come in to force a path through burning plywood, railings and oil drums. The cause of the fire was not known. One possibility being investigated was that a flare dropped from a circling plane—a routine occurrence—over most U.S. airfields last night.

It might have still been burning when it hit the supply area.

His companions were identified as William S. Hall of Riverside, Pa., and Francis D. Jorjo, whose address was not learned immediately. They were taken to Memorial Baptist Hospital in Houston.

Officers said Givens lived briefly after his car rammed into the embankment but died en route to the hospital.

Givens was born at Quakertown, Pa., and was graduated in 1952 from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. He was married to the former Ada Maus of Bedford, Mass. They have three children, including one born a few weeks ago.

At the same time he was asked if it was a thrill to become an astronaut he replied with a grin, "that is an understatement."

He was among the more experienced of the astronaut pilots, having logged about 3,500 hours of flight time, including 2,500 hours in jet aircraft.

Army Corpsmen Work On Dikes

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP)—A 25-member team from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers was working Tuesday on two weak spots in the dikes protecting this northern Idaho community. There was no immediate danger, they said.

In one spot north of the city seepage was reported and in the other spot, water was reported boiling under the dike. The Kootenai River dropped one inch during the night.

In announcing plans for the new light at Miller Avenue and Locust Street, City Commissioner Eugene Kroll said, "Traffic congestion in this area has been intensified by the shopping center and high school activities, especially since the College of Southern Idaho began classes."

The new light will be the latest standardized type of traffic control equipment, Mr. Kroll said, for lower maintenance and upkeep. It will consist of dual "stop," "caution" and "go" signals facing each lane of traffic from both directions. It features the new ultrasonic sensing unit designed to maintain a smoothly controlled traffic flow at all times.

R. J. Schaeffle, city engineer, said approval of the light was granted last August on a basis of traffic counts and need. Bid for the equipment was awarded Starline Equipment Co., Boise, and Shottwell's Inc., Twin Falls, was selected to install the equipment under supervision of the engineering department.

Mr. Kroll said the light is expected to be in operation by July 1.

Photographer Dies In Car Crash

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An American newspaper photographer Paul Schutler of Life magazine, was killed early today when an Egyptian fire hit the Israeli half-track on which he was riding.

Army sources reported. He was the first newsmen killed in the new Arab-Israeli war.

Schutler, 35, lived in New Rochelle, N.Y., with his wife and two children. He was covering an Israeli-Egyptian armistice battle in the Sinai Desert.

Life correspondent Michael Mok, also of New York, was riding in the half-track but was not hurt, the army sources said.

Stock Market Bounces Back

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market bounced back today from its loss triggered by the outbreak of war in the Middle East.

At 3 p.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 13.13 points to 890.00. The value of an average share of all common stock traded on the New York Exchange was up 83 cents.

SOVIET CHIEF DIES

MOSCOW (AP)—The chief of the Soviet Academy of Military Troops, Col. Gen. Pyotr Markov, died at the age of 64, a Soviet defense ministry publication said today.

Gas Company Hearing Is In Progress

BOISE (AP)—An Intermountain Gas Co. executive told the Idaho Public Utilities Commission Monday his firm eventually wants to divest itself of farm lands and non-utility irrigation facilities.

N. M. Campbell, vice president, appeared at a hearing to answer allegations the company violated state law by negotiating a land trade with Siltco Industries.

The allegations claim Intermountain Gas agreed Monday to trade 8,300 acres in Gem and Payette counties for 2,800 acres of "developed" land in Elmore County.

Campbell replied that after the land trade is made, his firm will still be the Elmore County property to a third party.

REGRET EXPRESSED

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese Foreign Ministry expressed regret today over the detonation of the first in a new series of French nuclear tests at Mururoa Atoll, in the Southwest Pacific.

One was the cut-off of oil shipments from Iraq and Kuwait to the West with allegations of U.S. backing for Israel as the assigned cause. There were reports the stoppage would attack.

One-Two Punch Of Hail Flattens Crops In County

Crop damage by Monday's hailstorm in Twin Falls was reported extensive, but somewhat scattered.

Paris of Twin Falls County were hit twice Monday by hail, once in the afternoon and again in the evening. Damage by the storm which cut a swath through Magic Valley has been estimated to be in the thousands.

The afternoon hailstorm was restricted to a part of the valley, from Hollister through Twin Falls and immediate surrounding communities, causing damage that farmers said would take days and weeks to fully assess. The evening storm struck between Twin Falls and Shoshone.

Buhl and Castleford areas also were hit by the afternoon storm. Carl Boyd, who farms south of Twin Falls, reported that his sugar-beet crop was destroyed for the second time. He said he had replanted the crop because of the freeze damage weeks ago and now the hail destroyed the second planting.

Fieldmen for bean dealer and the Annamagat Sugar Co. were out assessing the damage Tuesday. Many reported the damage was extensive, but was widely scattered.

One fieldman said one field would be damaged and the field next to it would hardly have any damage.

The crop mostly hit was sugar beets, though bean crops also were hit.

Several alfalfa fields were damaged as well as some grain fields, but many farmers thought if the stems were not broken or leaves knocked off, the crop would grow out of it.

Robert Colner, west of Twin Falls, said he sustained some damage but didn't immediately know how much. He said his alfalfa fields were damaged as well as some grain fields, but many farmers thought if the stems were not broken or leaves knocked off, the crop would grow out of it.

War Outbreak Catches Officials By Surprise

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Top administration officials—those knowledgeable to congressional leaders that the swift outbreak of Arab-Israeli fighting caught them by surprise, informants say.

It was one of the few reports that filtered out of a Capitol Hill briefing Monday by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency. The need for secrecy was emphasized at the briefing.

"They knew of course how serious the situation was but they thought they had more time to work on it," said one member of Congress who attended.

But Congress members, who often mount the battlements with an oratorical arsenal at the first flash of crisis, generally were following a silence-to-go-on course.

"It's a very serious situation and popping off won't help it at all," said one congressional leader.

What comment there was, came on urgings for a cease-fire and U.N. action.

But if congressional concern could not be measured in decisions it could be in numbers.

When an invitation went out to senators to sit in at a late afternoon briefing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by a State Department official more than half the Senate showed up.

Surprised committee Chairman J.W. Fulbright counted 56 senators jammed into the relatively small hearing room a floor down from the Senate chambers.

"It was more than we ever had in the room before," Fulbright told newsmen later.

At the earlier briefing for congressional leaders Rusk and McNamara, a previous leak and twice cautioned the Congress members against whispering to newsmen what went on.

Again, at the later session, the question of leaks was brought up by Senate Republican Leader

Everett M. Dirksen, who reportedly rumbled: "I'm sick and tired of keeping my big trap shut and having everyone else talk. Is this a secret session or isn't it?"

He was quickly assured by Fulbright and Lucius D. Battle, assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern affairs who conducted the briefing, that it was secret.

But afterward, some of the 56 senators who heard Battle and questioned him, wondered why it was secret. They said they heard little if anything in the briefing from news reports.

"What we've read and heard was not much different from what we heard" in the briefing, said Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass.

Fulbright said the meeting should have been open because "there wasn't a thing said that couldn't have been said in the open."

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: That letter about the sisters in West Virginia who couldn't get their aging mother to bathe regularly hit home with me because I have such a mother.

The poor soul is in her late seventies and is forgetful and somewhat childish. She is very heavy (about 250) so I coax and tease and jolly her while I undress her. Then with the help of my good husband we get her into the tub and give her a good scrubbing. Then we get her out of the tub, dry her and give her a good going over with some nice-smelling dusting powder. I'm sure the baths we give her are the only ones she ever has. Even tho they're only once every two weeks, they are better than none.

SAME PROBLEM SOLVED

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see that someone else had trouble getting her mother to take a bath—because I really was ashamed to tell anybody that I had the same problem with my own mother. I guess it was no secret until I learned how to handle her.

Mamma was 74 and stubborn as a mule. When she came to visit me I could smell her coming a block away, and after she left I used a can of spray to freshen the house. Finally realizing she was just like a child so I used the same tactics I'd use on a little kid and it worked. I made a tub of sudsy water, put little rubber swans and ducks in it and I said, "Come on now, Mamma, it's wa-wa time." I even got her to let me shampoo her hair. I poured plenty of scented bath oil into the tub, and she loved it.

While she was splashing around in her bath I'd run her clothes through the automatic and I added bath oil to them, too. Much to my surprise, every time she came to visit she asked for her "wa-wa time."

HAPPY NOW

DEAR ABBY: As a newly ordained minister, my husband and I have been asked to officiate at many marriage ceremonies. So why do they send us an invitation to the wedding? They know we're not getting married, but they send an invitation with an RSVP anyway. Do you suppose they expect some sort of a present? I can't be sure.

MINISTER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I'm sure a minister's wife is not expected to send an RSVP invitation because those in charge of arrangements probably want to know whether your husband is bringing you and staying for dinner.

DEAR ABBY: My 14-year-old daughter is not expected to bring anything and she wouldn't think of going to sit anywhere if she herself had a cold or wasn't feeling well.

However, parents who call sisters do not mind exposing the sister to children who are coughing, sneezing, and running a fever.

This is the fourth day my daughter has missed school this week. And all because she was called to sit with a sick child.

Abby, please remind all sistering parents that their sister is also somebody's child and shouldn't be exposed to sickness.

Area Missionary Council Has Monthly Meet

SHOSHONE—Women's Missionary Council for the Area of God Church held its monthly meeting at the church. Activity report showed 23 cards sent during the month, 12 calls made, 34 pieces of gospel literature distributed and one bouquet of flowers presented.

Letters were read from missionaries in the Philippines and from the Cuban Refugee Center, Miami, Fla.

Members were reminded to take sheets to roll bandages for the missionaries at the next meeting.

Mrs. C. D. Low presented the devotional service, using Psalm 111. Mrs. Carl Kinney read a chapter from the book, "He Is in Heaven," and plans are to read one chapter each meeting. The story tells of a missionary killed about one year ago and his work.

A total of 819 youth cards have been sent to the children's home.

Area Methodist WSCS Officers Are Announced

SHOSHONE—Officers for the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church for the coming year have been named.

They will include Mrs. Robert Ballard, president; Mrs. John Haley, vice president; Mrs. Hershel Kerner, recording secretary; Mrs. Alta Eggersdott, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Terry, secretary of communications; Mrs. Julius Pennington, secretary of Christian Social relations; Mrs. Otto Kruger, secretary of missionary education and service; Mrs. John Keith, secretary of spiritual life cultivation; Jean Oliver, secretary of supply work, and Mrs. Gilbert Pearson, chairman of nominations.

The group voted to adopt a child through the Christian Child's Fund.

A picnic will be held later in June at the last regular monthly meeting of the season.

Color Lesson Is Presented

Mrs. Alice Reed, county home demonstration agent, presented the lesson, "Color Becomes You," when members of the Country Pals Club met at the home of Mrs. George F. Thomas.

Guests were Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Ben Eldridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Jess Jones and Mrs. Harry Sharp.

The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Lee Sharp. The next meeting is June 23 at the home of Mrs. Albert Sharral.

Richfield Club Has Luncheon

RICHFIELD—North End Club members journeyed to Buhl recently for a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Odell Chaffin, former Richfield resident.

Club members approved sponsoring an Outlaw Day queen candidate with the Richfield American Legion Auxiliary. The two organizations will co-sponsor Rita King and Rena King, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling King.

Mrs. Carl Morgan received a prize. Mrs. Dick Johnson, Richfield, was a guest.

The next meeting is June 12 at the home of Mrs. Edward Apple.

Many Believe Mid-East Problem Insoluble

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, June 6 — The United Nations has been trying to solve the Middle East problem for more than 20 years, but many believe it to be insoluble because of the long history of conflict between the Jews and the Arabs.

It has been a frustrating experience, involving millions of dollars for peacekeeping forces and for aid to Arab refugees, and in the end never producing a formula for peace.

There have been countless rebuffs from Israel and the Arab governments, recriminations against the United Nations and always a new threat that the situation might explode into full-scale war.

It was one of the world's oldest problems when it came to the United Nations and had already been a subject for bitter debate in the halls of the League of Nations and in capitals around the world.

Some say the problem dates back to 1900 B.C., when the Hebrew patriarch Abraham and his tribesmen traveled across the Arabian Desert and settled in Canaan. History records a long story of bloody conflict, conquest and struggle which has kept the Middle East in turmoil through many centuries.

Behind the present conflict is the Zionist movement, which began late in the 19th century and which the Arabs believed to be a threat to their security. The Jewish government and the League of Nations gave their approval to the concept of turning Palestine into a national home for the Jews.

The Balfour Declaration touched off a furor among the Arabs, and Britain restricted Jewish immigration into Palestine. This led to widespread Jewish terrorism against the British, who were ruling Palestine under a League mandate.

The problem was dumped into the lap of the United Nations in 1947 when the British announced they were pulling out. A U.N. commission recommended the partition of Palestine to form a Jewish state, an Arab state, and an international zone to include Jerusalem.

Despite Arab warnings that they would never accept the plan, the General Assembly voted it anyway. It was never implemented. The Arabs attacked Israel and war ensued. U.N. mediators finally won armistice agreements, but the dispute remained unresolved.

What was already one of the world's major problems now showed no sign of improving despite a system of demilitarized zones, truce observers and United Nations armistice commissions. There was continual sabotage and terrorism, often met by reprisals.

Israeli Air Force Wins First Day's Battle

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Israeli air force apparently triumphed in the first day of the war, U.S. government sources reported after hearing from American observers in the Middle East.

This information tended to support Israel's claim that its jets had struck a hard blow at Arab air power.

The U.S. sources, who provided no figures, stopped short of saying the Arab air forces had been neutralized.

It they have succeeded in smashing Arab air power, the Israelis will have achieved one of two vital military objectives.

The other major military aim is the destruction of Egyptian tank forces.

The Israelis and the Egyptians each were credited with having about 1,000 tanks before the fighting broke out, with another 1,000 or so tanks distributed among other Arab armies.

Reports to the Pentagon on the military course of the war were still scanty in detail many hours after the fighting began.

Israel's military leaders claimed Monday to have destroyed 374 Egyptian, Jordanian and Syrian aircraft in aerial combat and on the ground. The Arabs claimed to have shot down 161 Israeli planes.

Shortly before the conflict erupted, American military experts estimated the Arab states and combined air forces totaling more than 500 combat planes. They pegged the Israeli air force at up to 270 fighting aircraft.

The Israeli air force is very largely French in manufacture — Mirage, Mystere and Ouragan interceptors and fighter bombers for the most part.

Thus, the French decision to cut off arms supplies to all of the warring countries could fall heavily on the Israelis if the war lasts for any appreciable length of time. They could run short of spare parts.

The biggest Arab air force is owned by Egypt — more than 200 fighting planes — and virtually all the significant aircraft were supplied by the Soviet Union.

Presumably, the Soviets would maintain a flow of spare parts to the Egyptians no matter how long the war lasted.

The Egyptian planes include MIG21 interceptors, as well as MIG18, MIG17 and MIG15 models.

— Egypt was credited with having about 70 medium and light jet bombers, but the battle-reporters for far have not mentioned them.

The Israelis, whose military doctrine stresses fast thrusts into enemy territory, have a mixed force of American M48 Patton tanks, some Sherman tanks and British centurions, as well as some French armored vehicles.

There has been no indication yet of any arms embargo by the United States and Britain which would affect the availability of spare parts for the Israeli-armed forces.

The Egyptians are equipped largely with Soviet T54 heavy tanks, T34 medium tanks and other Soviet-supplied armor.

U. S. military experts predicted an Israeli victory, in part because they believe the Israelis are better-trained and more capable in maintaining both their aircraft and their armored equipment.

The show will feature 57 cases of gems and minerals on display at a shopping center mall.

STUDIES APPROVED
MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Preliminary agreements for two studies to be conducted by the University of Idaho in cooperation with state agencies were approved by the university's board of regents Monday.

School district reorganization will be the topic of one study which will be conducted during the 1967-68 fiscal year. The State Department of Education will provide $20,500 for the study.

An agreement for a preliminary water inventory by the university's water resources research institute was also approved by the regents.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS
PRIEST RIVER, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson expressed hope Monday night that reorganization of state government will reduce expenditures.

The governor, speaking to the Priest River Chamber of Commerce, reviewed conferences he held in Boise with elected state officials, and appointed heads of departments.

Samuelson asked state officials to refrain from unnecessary spending, adding that "reorganization of some government services and consolidation of others will take time."

QUALIFICATIONS SET
BOISE (AP) — Qualifications required for appointment as warden of the Idaho State Penitentiary are being prepared. Mark Maxwell, chairman of the state board of corrections, said Tuesday.

Applications for the job then will be considered and Maxwell said it is expected an appointment will be made by July 1.

The 1967 Legislature authorized the board to appoint a warden. For many years the board of corrections has served as prison warden.

FUNDS REQUESTED
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Commission on Alcoholism has asked Gov. Don W. Samuelson to present a $111,000 appropriation request before the special legislative session June 19.

Vice Chairman Max Parrish of Pocatello said the commission needs the money to assist residents who have drinking problems.

Parrish said the 1967 Legislature didn't give it a budget.

MAN SENTENCED
EMMETT (AP) — An Arizona man accused of killing an elderly Idaho man and his sister has been sentenced to two life terms in prison. Judge Gilbert C. Norris fixed the penalty in seventh district court in Emmett.

Guy Junior Still, 30, Queen Creek, Ariz., pleaded guilty earlier to two counts of first-degree murder. He was accused of slaying Hugh R. Jackson, 67, and his sister, Ella Mae Jackson, 79. The two were found dead at their farm home near Emmett last January.

Norris conducted a pre-sentencing hearing last week, then fixed the penalty Monday.

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was active after having recovered about two-thirds of its Monday loss on news of the Israeli-Arab fighting. Trading was fairly active.

Here was the picture near the close: The Dow Jones industrial average at 2 p.m. was up 10.71, to 10,544.50 Monday. Advances running from fractions to 4 or 5 points among key issues peppered the list. Gainers outnumbered losers about two to one.

Wall Street seemed to have renewed confidence as markets of a possible cease-fire were circulated following Israeli successes. In four-million-share first hour tickers ran late and traders were just as "emotional" on the buy-side as they were in the sell-off. The market's recovery was aided by the general run of better-than-expected earnings reports. General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, RCA, American Telephone, Alcoa, and Westcott and American Cyanamid.

Dow Jones, 2 p.m.

20 Stocks: 248.32, up 3.07

65 Stocks: 11,447, up 4.67

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was active after having recovered about two-thirds of its Monday loss on news of the Israeli-Arab fighting. Trading was fairly active.

Here was the picture near the close: The Dow Jones industrial average at 2 p.m. was up 10.71, to 10,544.50 Monday. Advances running from fractions to 4 or 5 points among key issues peppered the list. Gainers outnumbered losers about two to one.

Wall Street seemed to have renewed confidence as markets of a possible cease-fire were circulated following Israeli successes. In four-million-share first hour tickers ran late and traders were just as "emotional" on the buy-side as they were in the sell-off. The market's recovery was aided by the general run of better-than-expected earnings reports. General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, RCA, American Telephone, Alcoa, and Westcott and American Cyanamid.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP) — All grain futures prices were lower on the Chicago Board of Trade today in active dealings.

Wheat activity could not compare with Monday's trade when soybeans advanced the permissible 10 cents a bushel in a few minutes. Corn, however, fell more than 8 cents — because war had started in the Middle East.

Wheat showed some early strength but it dissipated under liquidation. Corn also showed a tendency to firm up as some buyers and the loss ranged in about two cents a bushel.

Carrot receipts were estimated at: wheat 1 car, corn 35, oats none, rye none, barley 5, soybeans 4.

Guardsmen Hunt Armed Band Of Fugitives In New Mexico

By BUD JORGENSEN
CANNILON, N.M. (AP) — National Guardsmen, bolstered by light tanks, machine guns and nearly 80 law officers trudged through hills of northern New Mexico today in search of an armed band of men who shot up a rural courthouse.

The fugitives were identified by State Police Chief Joe Black as Reyes Lopez Tijerina and his followers in a long-threatening militant move to press claims for old Spanish land grants.

Black said 30 to 40 men fled from Tijerina were in the forested hills around Canjilon.

They fled Monday after shooting their way into the Rio Arriba County courthouse at Tierra Amarilla, about 15 miles north of Canjilon. Two officers were shot and wounded, about 20 persons were held hostage for two hours and a district judge barricaded himself in the court chambers.

Chief Black and Maj. Gen. John P. Jolly, commanding about 450 Guardsmen, set up headquarters in Canjilon and sent their men into the forest and small rural communities in search of the Tijerina force. Two M42 tanks were brought in, half dozen trucks and more than 20 jeeps were used in the search.

About 40 persons, many of them children, were taken into custody in the Canjilon area Monday night and placed under guard at their homes.

Tijerina's wife was jailed in Santa Fe on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony. Her 8-month-old daughter was taken to a foster home.

One of those arrested last night was identified as a 21-year-old Apodaca who, Black said, was charged with kidnapping and assault in connection with the armed band's seizure of a deputy sheriff and a newsmen as hostages when they left the courthouse.

Deputy Pete Jaramillo and United Press International newsmen Larry Calloway were taken out of Tierra Amarilla, Calloway broke loose. Jaramillo was released later.

Critically wounded in the initial rush by Tijerina's group at the town of Santa Fe, Jolly, a policeman, Nick Sals, and Jaller Elguio Salazar, Sals was in an Albuquerque hospital and Salazar was in Santa Fe hospital.

Sherry Benfante, one of those held as hostages in the courthouse, said about 20 men showed up Monday night and went into the building shortly after seven other members of Tijerina's organization appeared before the judge and the jury.

The seven persons who appeared before the judge, and four other members of the Tijerina organization, including a woman and a child, were arrested last weekend as state police of thousands of workers were given the day off with pay while others were called in to work overtime.

Power Flows Normally In 4-State Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Power flowed normally today through the four-state area hit by a massive failure but residents were faced with the prospect that a hot summer could increase chances for a recurrence of the blackout.

Chairman Lee White of the Federal Power Commission said that the area of New Jersey, Delaware, and parts of Pennsylvania and Maryland "must be extremely cautious this summer."

The reserve capacity of the affected region, White said, is "not all that it should be. He added the blackout Monday night might have been avoided had two power plants now in construction been in operation.

White declined to predict the possibility of another occurrence of the kind he did not know "how rough the summer was going to be" — an allusion to the use of air conditioners which draw heavy current loads.

He said he would rather not speculate on a suggestion that the failure might have been caused by one of the 12 million people in the area turning on their air conditioners at once. But he said that could be a plausible hypothesis.

The blackout caused incalculable losses and profits to businesses and industries. Hundreds of thousands of workers were given the day off with pay while others were called in to work overtime.

Controversy Develops In Christendom

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A controversy developed in Christendom today over Episcopal Bishop C. Kilmer Myers' proposal that Anglican and Protestant unite under the Roman papacy.

The bishop says he was prompted to deliver the sermon at Grace Cathedral Sunday by the threat of war in the Middle East—which is now a fact.

Myers told newsmen later he had been thinking about it for three years, and the blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba dramatized for him Catholics' "sinful devotion to disunity."

The Middle East represents fragmentation basically caused by food problems.

He said he did not believe that God will permit his church to lead mankind further into a tribalistic situation, as he had said in his sermon to the standing-room-only congregation of 1,500 on Nov. 11.

A spokesman for the bishop said reaction had been mixed. Although telephone calls and letters have been received from across the country, he said, the only violent protests have come from laymen, predominantly women.

He said lay Christians appeared to be based mostly upon traditional fears of papal power and the doctrine of infallibility.

On the other hand, the proposal by the successor to the controversial Bishop James Pike as leader of 100,000 North American Episcopalians met a restrained response both ways.

"Do you want me to register a look of pleasant surprise?" asked Roman Catholic Archbishop Joseph McGuinness Monday as he met reporters and photographers.

He welcomed the Myers proposal, but said he knew many non-Catholics are suspicious of centralized papal power. However, he said, peace, poverty and racial justice "are all fields in which we can come together with a bond of love."

He said he had forwarded a copy of Myers' sermon in the Vatican, where sources said the proposal would receive consideration.

In Great Britain, Church of England circles showed no disagreement with the Myers proposal but it was pointed out that the Anglican position traditionally has been that its chief differences with Rome are in areas regarded as human innovations such as worship of the Virgin Mary and the principle of papal infallibility.

At Stanford University, Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, head of the School of Religion, praised the Myers concept. It may "set certain ecclesiastical teeth on edge," he said, but Myers was only expressing openly "the unspoken yet half-articulated impulse of some Protestants to fuse Pope Paul or Pope John as support for our concerns."

"We protestants can see in the Vatican as received by Pope John, an important symbol of a united Christian voice and witness," Brown said.

Execution Of Speck May Be Years Away
JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Richard Speck, sentenced for the slaying of eight nurses, may be at a diagnostic center for processing today before being sent to the State Penitentiary, Judge Herbert C. Paschen Monday sentenced Speck to the electric chair Sept. 1.

Speck's appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court is automatic in capital punishment cases in Illinois.

Speck was convicted April 15 in Circuit Court in Peoria of murdering the eight nurses who were stabbed or strangled July 14, 1966, in their townhouse dormitory in Chicago.

At his court hearing in Peoria Monday, Speck listened with no show of emotion as Judge Paschen intoned the death sentence.

Speck's only comment was muttered to Sheriff William Koepel of Peoria County as Speck was led from the courtroom.

"You can't win them all," Speck said.

Speck's encounter "with the electric chair may be years away."

Annual Meet Of Church Is Conducted

BOSTON, Mass. — Christian Scientists from around the world heard a call for "a new, expanded outreach to the world and the community" at the church's Annual Meeting held Monday at the church headquarters in Boston.

Erwin D. Canham, editor in chief of the Christian Science Monitor and retiring president of the church, described the present as "a period of unprecedented ferment in the world's religious thought."

Mrs. Beatrice Thayer Pittman, newly-elected president for the coming year, described Christian Scientists as "interested in good government, in racial justice, in bettering the lot of all men. We are devoted to an adequate opportunity for everyone."

About 600 members, many from distant parts of the world, filled the auditorium of the Mother Church Extension and the adjoining official Church offices. An overflow crowd seated in a nearby theater saw the proceedings of the meeting on closed-circuit television.

A groundbreaking ceremony took place during the morning, when the first spadeful of earth was turned for the church's new Administration Building. The 38-story edifice will be a first of several buildings in the church's new $15-million center in the Back Bay area.

Mr. Julian made the presentation on behalf of the veterans' families of World War II. They are to be flown over the city hall in memory of these servicemen and their families.

Senate OKays Bill On Silver Certificates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the House Monday an administration bill authorizing the Treasury to stop paying off silver certificates paper money in actual silver a year from now.

The House Banking Committee has approved similar legislation which is to be considered by the Rules Committee today for clearance for floor debate.

Administration officials advised Congress the bill was necessary because of greatly increased demand for silver, especially for defense purposes.

Under the bill, the position, holders of silver certificates who wish to take advantage of the government's commitment to convert them to silver will have to do so within one year from the time the bill becomes law.

Administrative officials described the legislation as one more step in the transition from a coinage system based on silver to a functional one in which coins are made of base metals and have no value except as legal tender.

The bill, they said, would increase the supply of silver available to the Treasury and thus prevent a rise in the price of silver which could bring about the withdrawal of silver coins from circulation.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, senior GOP member of the Banking Committee, supported the committee-approved bill as a means of getting the government and the Treasury out of the silver market. He said the U.S. Treasury has disrupted world silver markets recently by keeping prices at $1.20 an ounce through offers to sell the metals to holders of silver certificates. If price rose above that level it would be profitable to melt down silver coins, Bennett added.

The canteen was supervised and operated by Mrs. Lloyd Hollingsworth, Mrs. Joe Mack, Mrs. Wes Karlson, Mrs. Robert Saxvik, Mrs. Gerald Bryan, Vilan Odney and Mrs. Mary Carl, all members of the Burley Senior Citizens Club.

Posters were distributed by Mrs. Sherrill Warner and Mrs. LePage Layton, both members of the XI Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Equipment was loaded and unloaded by members of the Burley Jaycees. Those assisting with pre-drawing preparations were Mrs. Ruth Morgan, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Lloyd Hollingsworth, Walter Schramm and Robert Saxvik.

As the hall were dominated by the Burley Elks Lodge and typewriters were furnished by Spencer's Office Supply.

Overcome

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Sir Francis Chichester, who successfully challenged nature when he sailed around the world alone, has apparently been overcome by local life ashore.

Sir Francis became ill at a party Monday night and was advised to rest.

London is planning a webcast of the sailing ship's arrival in London next Tuesday.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

NEAT-PLAY-UNDER DIFFERENT NAME

In our recent discussion of "Bridge for Women" we mentioned that female bridge experts are more apt to play hunches than their male counterparts.

We also pointed out that women's hunches are likely to be more good common sense than psychic.

As an example, take this hand played by Jan Stone of New York. East won the heart lead with his king and returned the seven spot. Jan thought, while and played a low heart. West won with the eight, cashed his heart ace and led a spade. Jan won in her own hand and lost the diamond finesse to East's king but all East could do was lead a heart to Jan's queen, whereupon Jan took the rest of the tricks.

East asked Jan how she figured out the low heart play at trick two. "Just a hunch," replied Jan.

Later on she explained that it wasn't really a hunch. She realized that if West had led from jack-eight-two her low play would lose and the queen play would win, and that if West led from eight-five-two then the ten play would be the only winner but Jan went on: "I had played against this East before. He always false-plays against me, so if he had started with ace-king or ace-king-jack he would automatically have played the ace at trick one. There was no point in revealing this to him. I would rather that he kept on treating me like a simple player. It is so much easier to play against him on that basis."

Jan's logic was flawless. If your opponents will be kind enough to underestimate you, they are also going to lose to you.

It also reminds us of a remark made by Mary Clement one of the best bridge players of the thirties. She had just executed a three-suit squeeze and asked her victim, "Was that actually a squeeze? I never know."

EILE AND WALT DULANEY

Those Lasses Who Tease Should Be Ready To Flee

This is Walt at the helm today with a barrage of collected male complaints. Target? The teases. Lasses who come on and seduce, who flip the switch, scream at the top of their lungs, "What made you think I was that kind of girl?" when it dates rise their butts.

The teasing girls dangle all sorts of promises, "complained a Midwest senior recently. "They operate just like the cat who wears a bell. A carrot four feet away from them, or just out-reach in front of his donkey to lure him forward. Only in this case, the magnet is sex. Well, the way I see it, it's a dirty, frustrating game for the girl to play. And even if she stays out of trouble, I can't see why she's any better than a prostitute!"

There's the basic complaint. Now let's investigate some of the tease techniques that anger the guys.

"If a gal wears plunging necklines, tight-tight skirts, etc., what can you figure but she's selling and selling hard. So you dig the costume, and you take her out. Then suddenly, when you're alone, she turns into Miss Goody Good, and you're a big villain, for ever thinking she was anything else. Gals should wise up, and not put on the costume unless they're ready to follow through with the performance."

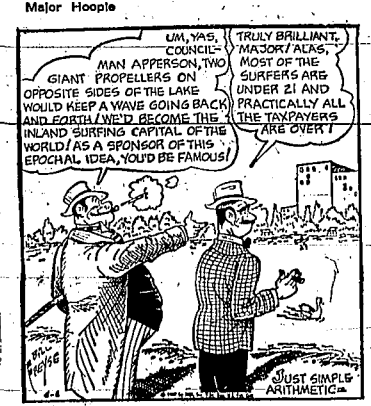

ANGRY MEMORIES

A college junior looks back in anger. "In high school I got in hot water because I made a pass at a girl. Even today I still think it was a bum rap. She was always telling the latest dirty joke or reading the sexy parts of books out loud to the group. Wank! that a pretty clear invitation?"

One of the guys I chatted with felt that poor sex education might cause some unconscious teasing. "Maybe girls don't like how quick a guy gets turned on. But someone ought to tell them not to let their hand roam, unless they're ready to accept the consequences. I see every day, including Sunday, girls make it a habit to tease."

Little old ladies are supposed to drive their cars only on Sunday afternoons. (Source: see car dealers.) Then who are these LOL poking along in front of us every day, including Sunday?

Members Of Nursing Units Set Workshop

Members of District No. 1 and District No. 11 of the Idaho State Nursing Association are preparing for a two-day workshop this month in Twin Falls.

The program, June 19-20 at the Holiday Inn, sponsored by the two districts, is aimed at assisting nurses in understanding changes brought about by their economic and educational problems, developing and strengthening ideas for improving patient care.

The two districts include Twin Falls, Blaine, Jerome, Gooding, Cassia and Minidoka counties. Directors of the conference are Mrs. Marilyn Blackburn, Mrs. Johanne Braga, Mrs. Fern Honderich and Mrs. Audrey Harper.

Lecturers from California, Utah and Idaho will participate and several local nurses and physicians will discuss new concepts and challenge relating to the nursing environment, Mrs. Honderich said.

Between 80 and 100 delegates are expected to attend.

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — A Russian fishing fleet which moved from Oregon waters to fish off the Washington coast over the weekend will be watched closely by the Washington State Patrol.

Gov. Don Evans said Monday a State Patrol plane will fly a "close and continuous watch" on the trawlers and support vessels concentrated in a 50-mile area from Grays Harbor to Destruction Island.

Evans said the plane would carry a State Fisheries Department observer.

Foul Play Seen In Train Death

SPOKANE (AP) — Body of a man run over by a Great Northern passenger train here about midnight Sunday was identified Monday as that of Frank G. Gleason, 50, Spokane.

Authorities said there was evidence of foul play.

The engineer of the train said he thought the body was some person on the tracks until he was too near to stop.

Proposed Benefit Hikes May Be Cut Back

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee is talking of cutting back slightly Social Security benefit increases proposed by President Johnson.

This was learned as the committee continued today its weeks-long closed sessions on the complex administration legislation. There is little prospect of a House vote earlier than next month.

Johnson's proposals involved a hike in benefits of not less than 15 percent for any recipient, with some in the lower brackets getting a proportionately much larger increase.

A committee source said discussions now center around an increase averaging perhaps 13 percent.

Prominent committee sentiment, it was said, is against raising the wage base in which the tax is levied as steeply as the presidential proposal contemplates — from the present $3,600 to $7,800 in 1968, $9,000 in 1971 and $10,800 in 1974.

Combined with tax rate increases now center around 10 percent, a rise from the maximum, a rise from the present $20.40 annual tax to $33.20 in 1968 and ultimately by 1971, $52.40.

Without such increases, the full range of increases proposed by Johnson would not be in agreement on an exact benefit increase schedule has been reached yet. But he said this would not be as difficult as resolving other portions of the legislation, such as those dealing with changes in Medicare and with limitations on federal participation in state medical programs.

Economy Of Middle East Countries Viewed By Experts
By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil and agriculture are the economic backbones of the warring Middle East countries. All nations involved lack significant industry and have vast pocket economies compared with the United States.

U.S. officials say both Israel and Egypt are beginning to move toward an industrialized economy. But they've had to get their principal weapons — tanks and airplanes, for example — from the major powers.

They are incapable of switching automobile plants to tank production, for example, because neither has an auto manufacturing industry.

Egypt, Commerce Department officials said, has assembly operations only for Fiat cars, Yugoslav tractors, German trucks and English Ford cars and trucks. It suffers an acute shortage of skilled workers.

Israel, whose skilled worker shortage isn't as severe, also lacks auto manufacturing plants but has assembly operations.

Auto production in Egypt during 1965, Commerce officials said, was about 3,600 vehicles, mainly Fiat cars — made from components imported from Italy.

Israel's gross national product — the value of all goods and services produced in the economy — approaches $4 billion, Commerce Department studies showed. Her five closest Arab neighbors had a combined GNP in 1965 approaching $8 billion.

By comparison, the expansion in the U.S. economy alone last year was $58.4 billion to a record over-all total of $739.6 billion.

Commerce officials now figure Egypt's gross national product at about $5 billion while Saudi Arabia's economy produced $1.2 billion in goods and services during 1963, the most recent figure available.

For three other nations bordering Israel, the department said 1966 GNP totaled $550 million for Lebanon, $859 for Syria and $470 million for Jordan.

By far the richest Middle East country is tiny Kuwait where the gross national product now exceeds $1.5 billion, about half of it from oil.
